REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Arunapuram (US 2002/0019759) discloses the use of charges being made for different legs of a shipping route, such as at a cross dock. Arunapuram further discloses managing unbilled shipping charges, however the second shipping charge in Arunapuram is not determined without reference to the actual shipping charge that is charged from the shipping entity to the supplier, instead all shipping charges of Arunapuram are actual charges by the shipping entity. Fergeson (5,966,997) discloses the use of a flat rate shipping charge, which is a fee that is not related to the actual charge by the shipping entity, however is not based on a virtual location. The applicant defines a virtual location as being a location which the user is being charged from, but is not the actual location of the items (i.e. a virtual location would be the location of a US warehouse, when the actual location could be a warehouse in china). PR Newswire (Financial News article) discloses the use of a service called skybox, which allows customers in a foreign country to supply a virtual address to the supplier (the skybox, address), so skybox will receive the items at the virtual address then forward the items to the customer location. However, the charges which are charged to the customer, are actual charges by the shipping entity, along with customs charges, and the customer is charged for shipping the item from the actual location to the virtual location, and the virtual location to the customer location. There being two shipping entities and two separate charges, which are both charged to the customer. Therefore a method for a supplier to manage shipping charges, where a first charge is provided, that is corresponding to the actual charge of the shipping entity to the supplier for shipping the items from the actual location to a customer location, a second charge is provided, where the second charge is based on a shipping charge by the supplier to the customer that is based on the shipment of the items from a virtual location to the customer, and that the virtual location being different than the actual location of the items, and to where the second shipping charge is determined without reference to the actual charge of the shipping entity to the supplier, is not anticipated, nor rendered obvious over the prior art of record.

2. Applicant's argument in regards to the 112 1st paragraph rejection are considered to be persuasive to overcome the rejection. Therefore the 112 1st paragraph rejection has been dropped.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
